
Redux Revolutions with Liberation Links

Posted by Paradoxan - 2008/01/28 18:25

Would like to share the "new" liberation with "new" tactics, techniques, codes and cutting edge hidden meanings that span broad/wide range of concepts. Sending messages with hidden meanings and concealed codes are the norms of the "new" generations' distribution/contribution towards freedom and justice, 21st Century style.

Sir Paradoxan,

Please allow me to add links. A person by the name of "Mr. Creator" had created many artistic materials (pieces of art work) that is directly offensive to the regime. A direct challenge of expression vs. repression.

http://www.irrawaddy.org/article.php?art_id=10066

Also the people of Burma should be aware of polluted mind foreigners like Ross Dunkley whose mind is only making money regardless of what happen to the people and the nation.

http://www.irrawaddy.org/article.php?art_id=10067

Foreigners like these exist in reality exploiting every opportunity they can for their own selfishness/greed, same like the Chinese Communist Party.

Regards.

Is that Burmese Mona Lisa or Leesar? created by Artist Mr. Creator? Her smile is saying "come and get me if you can". Her belly up is eye catching indeed. His submissive face is also heart warming, isn't he? What a pair! :laugh:

My insight of SPDC morally bankrupt situation is also shared by "Aung Zaw" the prominent intellectual/writer of Irrawaddy website.

I can go on and on of the over whelming response of "smart" people around the world. It is crystal clear the fight for right moves on until and unless the militant local fascists are get rid of Burma once and for all. There will not be peace nor prosperity as long as the junta manipulate the rule of democratic law of minding their own institution, in other words minding military matters for military institution and stop interfering into other institution any more. Junta cannot fool the "smart" people by just changing their clothes.
