
Friendly relation between PR China and Myanmar

Posted by thunderbolts - 2008/02/16 08:53

Dear Patriots,

To make enemy is easy, to bomb a country is easy, especially a country which is militarily weaker than you. but to make friend is not that easy. understanding, give and take common sense etc and a great courage is needed. A friend cannot be made through a berrel of the gun, or a bomb.

Why the West wants to see the friendly relations between China and Myanmar broken. Two birds with one stone policy. To isolate Myanmar and China at the same time. The West can not hide their intention or ambition That they want China and Myanmar friendless.

From President Truman and General MaArthur tries theorgh Korean War to destroy China. Through General Stillwell and Cheng Kai Shek's armies he American tried on Myanmar, President Jimmy Carter and his CIA team theorgh U Khun Za tried on Myanmar to get Peoples' Republic of China. And now US and the West trying on China through Darfor.

One of the film directors Steven Spielberg tries on China on his own. He thinks he can destroy the Olympic in China, while US is not withdrawing its team yet. This man of fantasies who is living on other peoples' brain is gone because of his childishness Propaganda films such as Beyond Rangoon, Stealth, Rambo etc they are trying on Myanmar.

Relation between PR China and Union of Myanmar.

The Peoples' Republic of China has accepted the Sino-Myanmar boundary as inherited By the Union of Myanmar from the United Kingdom , and shown in the maps of the Union of Myanmar .

The significant of this agreement is that they now exits for the first time in history a firm mutually agreed basis for the delimitation and demarcation of the entire boundary between Myanmar and China.

It is in the fitness of things, therefore, that the history event which will remove a major source of misunderstanding between the two countries should be accompanied by a Treaty of Friendship and Mutual Non-Aggression between them.

The Treaty of Friendship and Non- Aggression with China follows the basis pattern of Treaties of the same nature concluded with other countries, Under the Treaty both party undertake;

i) to recognise and respect the independence, sovereign rights and territorial integrity of each other.

ii) to settle all disputes between them by means of peaceful negotiation without resorting to force.

iii) each not to carryout acts of aggression against the other, and not to take part in any military alliance directed against the other , and;

Iv) to develop and strengthen their economy and cultural ties in a spirit of friendship and co-operation, in accordance with the principal of equality, and mutual benefit and of mutual non-interference in each other internal affairs.

It can then be seen that this Treaty is strictly in accordance with the Union of Myanmar 's Government's policy of strengthening friendly relations and expending co-operation with all countries irrespective of their political or social systems and that it faithfully reflects the policy of peace and of neutrality and non-alignment which the Union of Myanmar has chosen in complete freedom, publicly proclaimed and consistently followed ever since she regain her independence.

The Treaty, may confidently be expected to usher in a new era of mutual trust and growing friendship and of expending co-operation between the two countries , in the end that they may come to live together , for all time as good neighbours.

Be enlightened,

Regards,

Thunderbolts.

Post edited by: thunderbolts, at: 2008/02/16 08:55

Re: Friendly relation between PR China and Myanmar

Posted by ZynnYaw - 2008/02/16 16:48

thunderboats,

Do you make "arse contact" (just like your bosses) with chinks to create "good" relationship?

=====