Ignorant Idiots:

Rhetoric or Results.

Personalities of being ignorant and idiot. Don't have to go far, just look at this Burma forum. It is noticeable that the idiots does not have the brain of their own. What they did is they republish other news by copy and paste the news or from other books or whatever. I sincerely do not know they have the copy rights or republishing permit (from the original owner or publisher) or authority or acknowledgement from the sources to republish these news especially that mentally retarded "umyintwin" to republished the entire news of other sources. In fact these idiots do not even understand what "copy right" means?

Some of the idiots that does have some brains you know what they do? They publish all rubbish and irrelevant BS. Leaving a link is one thing but republishing or copy and paste the entire news is another thing.

In this forum there are those who writes from their heart, from their own brain and from their own thoughts and ideas. That is called authenticity, genuine expressions of oneself. Right or wrong or correct English is one thing, using other people's brains, writings, statements and news or opinions or views or posts is another. If you read a person's post one can tell the ability, capability or intelligence and authenticity of that person. Most of these idiots avoid confrontation with people who are more smarter, brighter and intelligent and wiser than them. Just like their bosses Generals who do not want any one superior than them (Suu Kyi is the perfect example), ignore these superior persons and they live in their little cocoon of small world of their own and do right or wrong without listening or paying attention to wizards. Don't need to look too far, just look at their so called "National International Airline" for example. How many 747s do they own? None. How many jets they own? One or maybe two. How far did their planes fly? Next door.

Well, case settle. Their ingenuity and innovations show the results. Forget the rhetoric, see and look at their results. Where is Burma and Burmese standing now? I am surprise Thailand now ranks the world largest rice exporter. A nation that was behind Burma during the democratic era and yet there are many idiots supporting these illegal idiotic rulers of Myanmar.

One more important thing. They cannot face the truth. Why? Because they know they had inferior complex and their conscience is not clear or guilty conscience bugging them so they totally and categorically ignore outright and make moves, write, speak, talk, discuss by their own likeminded, mental stated like wise people. Don't look too far, look into this Burma forum and one will notice their mentally retarded inferior behavior. These idiots when confronted with problems, they rather not face it and fix it like courageous and bright people, they dodge it and sway around the problem and act like there is no problem at all. The worst scenario is that these idiots don't even know they are fools, fooling and killing themselves. Kind of like a suicidal mentality. Suicidal to their race, religion, people and their nation.
