
Art in Asia

Posted by Nicole - 2008/03/29 16:00

Asian weapons dug up in India

Go down to see my last post

Archeologist in the eastern Indian state of West Bengal have discovered small weapons made of stone which are around 15,000-20,000 years old

http://news.bbc.co.uk/2/hi/south_asia/7315386.stm

<http://www.iht.com/articles/2008/05/22/asia/temple.php>

.

.

Re:Art in Asia

Posted by Nicole - 2008/03/29 16:05

Artifacts at Risk

Bangladesh National Museum is the home of a countless number of rare and priceless artefacts from ancient periods

<http://www.asianewsnet.net/arts.php?aid=15976>

Re:Art in Asia

Posted by Nicole - 2008/04/15 09:15

A gold dagger which once belonged to shah Jahan, the Mughol emperor who built the Taj Mahal, has been sold at auction for £ 1,7 m

http://news.bbc.co.uk/2/hi/south_asia/7337978.stm

Re:Art in Asia

Posted by Nicole - 2008/05/08 15:17

8 May 2008

Courts said that Indian painter MF Husain work in which he representated India as a nude goddess is not obscene

http://news.bbc.co.uk/2/hi/south_asia/7389440.stm

<http://www.asiaobserver.com/images/fbfiles/images/motherindia-3f52c1090ac9ec3d5d310073486cdbba.jpg>

Re:Art in Asia

Posted by Nicole - 2008/05/23 12:17

May 23, 2008

According to Chinese authorities, many cultural relics have been lost in the Sichuan earthquake

http://news.xinhuanet.com/english/2008-05/23/content_8233506.htm

<http://www.iht.com/articles/2008/05/22/asia/temple.php>

.

. http://www.asiaobserver.com/images/fbfiles/images/Sichuan_relics-f5173b8d98688754de6f4db353f63283.jpg

Re:Art in Asia

Posted by Nicole - 2008/07/17 23:23

18 July 2008

Alastair Leithead, for BBC News, revisited the treasures of Bamiyan (Afghanistan) destroyed by the Taliban, focusing on the few remaining and mutilated paintings

http://news.bbc.co.uk/2/hi/south_asia/7508917.stm

. <http://www.asiaobserver.com/images/fbfiles/images/Bamiyan.jpg>

Re:Art in Asia

Posted by Nicole - 2008/08/03 01:10

3 August 2008

Contemporary art in China is a man's world. While the art market has become a powerhouse industry and produced a pantheon of multimillionaire artist-celebrities, there are no women in that pantheon. Yet the art is there, and it is some of the most innovative work around

. http://www.nytimes.com/slideshow/2008/07/30/arts/design/20080730_BEIJING_ARTISTS_index.html

<http://www.asiaobserver.com/images/fbfiles/images/cui2.jpg>

Re:Art in Asia

Posted by Nicole - 2008/08/28 09:32

Do you know the art of Nandalal Bose, Indian modern artist ?

<http://www.nytimes.com/2008/08/20/arts/design/20bose.html>

. <http://www.asiaobserver.com/images/fbfiles/images/Evening.jpg>

Re:Art in Asia

Posted by Nicole - 2008/11/09 13:57

November 9, 2008

Maqbool Fida Husain, India's most famous painter, is afraid to go home

Husain is a Muslim who is fond of painting Hindu goddesses, sometimes portraying them nude. That obsession has earned him the ire of a small but organized cadre of Hindu nationalists. They have attacked galleries that exhibit his work, accused him in court of "promoting enmity" among faiths and, on one occasion, offered an $11 million reward for his head.

<http://www.iht.com/articles/2008/11/08/asia/09india.php>