Well, I don't know whether Sarkozy will attend the opening ceremony in Beijing or not. Now UK's prime minister said he would not attend.

Boycotting the J.O (Olympic Games) I personally disagree.

I think that we should not mix the Olympic Games and Human Rights.

Tibets are using the Olympic opportunity in order to promote their cause - they have their right.

The Human Rights defenders are manifesting against China's crackdown - they have their right.

The world showed tthat they are not happy with China's crackdown - it is enough.

Anyway a part form megaphone diplomatie I see no concrete action the world can do to go down to the bottom line of the problem.

the Chinese people are with their government.

China has their right to hold Olympic Games entirely.
