

---

Asia Observer Friends

Posted by Sandvand - 2008/04/19 14:56

---

I just wanted to remind you all of one of our services: Asia Observer Friends.

Asia Observer Friends is offered in cooperation with Worldfriends Networks. This service connects a large number of web sites all over the world to present a unique service to people looking for international friends.

By registering you will be able to meet no less than 1,4 million members worldwide - representing 250 different countries. Every day 1500 new members are registering.

The two most popular countries are China and Japan.

Check it out - and meet new friends!

You find the service at: <http://friends.asiaobserver.com>

One detail to note: Registration for this service is separate from being a member of the Asia Observer web site. Asia Observer is a small and friendly community with currently about 800 members. Asia Observer Friends is part of a big international network - with 1,4 million members. To participate in both you will need to register with both.

I hope you will enjoy this service and meet many friends!

Cheers,

John :cheer:

=====