hey Jacques, it's only now that I'd state my reasons why I take pride in my country. I waited for at least two or more replies before I share mine.

Okay...so why am I proud of my country? For all that it has to offer. One is its great diversity. We're composed of 7,100 islands which are all enriched with natural resources. You go to the Philippines then for sure you're gonna experience the unique warm hospitality. :)
