It really is a fascinating story. DNA tests will prove whether she is the long lost daughter of the couple who has taken her in.

The mystery is still not solved.

There is something strange about it, I think. Like the girl having short hair after supposedly 19 years in the jungle. I don't know if I believe this stuff. Maybe she is just a woman who had a mental breakdown?

Now the girl will be seen by a psychiatrist:

How he can examine her when she is not able to communicate at all, I don't know ..
